

INDX unveils long-awaited scale model at VIP event [PICS] – March 30, 2012

Yesterday we took a trip to the downtown core to check out the VIP event Lifetime and CentreCourt were holding for INDX.

The 54 storey project is turning heads due to its location in the heart of Toronto's Financial District. The developers are aiming the project at the young go-getter demographic — the ambitious folks who want to live a stone's throw away from where they work.

There was a long line to get in when we arrived at First Canadian Place and the large conference was packed to the rafters and buzzing with activity. Celeb chef Michael Bonacini was catering the event and was even on hand to give a short speech and draw the names of three lucky attendees who won a trip to New York.

Let's have a gander at the pics, shall we?

The scale model had attendees crowding around it for the duration of the event. We'd estimate at least 1000 phone pics were snapped of the scale model.

Page + Steele are handling the architecture while Cecconi Simone are on interior design duty.

The place was packed!
